Abstract of the Program:

The Swachhata Abhiyan was organized to promote cleanliness and hygiene in the community and college. As part of this initiative, multiple programs were conducted, including a

1. Cleanliness drive at the Ganpati Visarjan tank

Around 50 enthusiastic student volunteers participated in the effort. The volunteers were divided into teams and assigned to different Ganpati Visarjan tanks, where they provided their services. Each team was responsible for a specific tank, ensuring that the cleaning efforts were well-organized and covered multiple locations efficiently

2. Video-making competition for college students on themes such as "Clean India, Green India: Together for a Plastic-Free Future"

In the online video-making competition, 32 students participated, forming groups of 8. Each group worked together to create and submit their videos, making the competition lively and interactive by promoting teamwork and creativity.

The activities aimed to foster a sense of responsibility towards maintaining a clean environment and raise awareness about sustainable practices.

Objectives:

- To clean and maintain hygiene at the Ganpati Visarjan tank and surrounding areas.
- Encourage the proper disposal of waste during and after Ganpati Visarjan.
- To promote the use of eco-friendly idols and natural materials for decoration to reduce the environmental impact.
- Provide a platform for students to express their views on environmental issues through videos.

The campaign encouraged the use of eco-friendly idols and natural materials, contributing to more sustainable Ganpati Visarjan practices.

The video-making competition encouraged students to think critically about environmental issues and express their views creatively.

The initiative helped instill a sense of ownership and responsibility toward keeping public places clean, promoting long-term behavioral change.
